The Danish Way of Teaching

Danish higher education has a long tradition of combining academic excellence with a dynamic and innovative approach to education and research.

Danish higher education is well-known for its high international standards. Educational institutions offer a dynamic study environment, emphasizing independent study, initiative and project-oriented learning. Studying in Denmark can be an excellent stepping stone for your future career, and will provide you with new skills and a unique experience.

Studies

As a student at a Danish higher education institution you are expected to play an active role in your learning process, and take responsibility for planning and carrying out your projects, either independently or together with other students. In addition to attending lectures you will be expected to participate in discussions and continuously develop your critical thinking and analytical skills.

For international students, the Danish approach to teaching and learning can introduce a whole new way of studying and thinking, which will challenge you and provide you with an excellent platform for your future career.

Practice placements

During the practice placement you will gain valuable hands-on experience within your field of study which will prepare you for entering the “real life” after finishing your studies.

Although you will be assigned to a supervisor, it is important that you are independent and take responsibility for your own learning, as this is an important part of the Danish way of learning and it helps you to gain the most of your practice placement.

The Danish Grading System

The 7-point grading scale used in Denmark is compatible with the ECTS grading scale. Pass/fail assessments may also be used.

Social Activities

At University College Lillebaelt we work hard to ensure the social integration of our international exchange students. To do this, University College Lillebaelt arranges a variety of social and cultural activities for our international exchange students.

The Erasmus Student Network (ESN), situated in Odense, offers help in both the social and practical integration process. This is mainly done through activities such as trips to various places within the country, movie nights, international food fests, sport activities and last, but not least, parties.

The main focus of the network is on current exchange students, who might find it difficult to move to another country, far away from family and friends.

The activities are carried out by Danish students, who work voluntarily on helping and supporting our international exchange students.

By bringing international exchange students together with Danish students at UCL, we aim to bridge the gap between cultural boundaries, but also to let our students gain valuable knowledge, new perspectives, and important networking opportunities for their future careers.

General Practical Information

Insurance

University College Lillebaelt does not cover any medical costs for exchange students (including accidents in connection with studies). All students are responsible for their own health, accident and travel insurances. Do not forget to take insurance that covers all of these during both your stay in Denmark and your travel to and from Denmark. For eventual leisure time excursions, it is advisable to make sure that the insurance is valid in Denmark's neighboring countries as well.

Students from EU countries must also bring their European Health Card with them. For further information on the card, please contact the social insurance office in your home country. Note that the European Health Insurance Card is not valid during your travels to and from Denmark or during any excursions to a third country.

Remember to bring a valid copy of your insurance policy with you. The citizens of EU countries are entitled to all health services in Denmark, if they are covered by health insurance in their home country and they have the European Health Card. Even so, all exchange students need separate insurance that covers the whole exchange period.

How to get in touch with a doctor

Phone your doctor in his or her office hours, typically in the morning, to make an appointment. The name, telephone number and address of your doctor are written on your health insurance card. You can also look it up in the telephone directory under Læger. You must always remember to bring your yellow health insurance card with you. It is also a good idea to bring an accurate and complete physical and mental health information document to secure a safe and healthy study abroad experience.

Doctor on duty

If you need to consult a doctor outside regular working hours on weekdays (i.e. between 16:00 and 08:00), on weekends or public holidays, you must call the Doctor on Duty (Lægevagten). Phone +45 7011 0707. It should only be used in case of an acute illness. You have to call in advance to talk to a doctor before going to see him/her.

Emergency

In cases of a serious emergency, dial 112 (free call from pay phones). Ask for an ambulance, the police or the fire department (whatever is relevant), state your name, address and the telephone number you are calling from. Stay by the telephone until your information has been confirmed.

If you need emergency treatment you can contact the Emergency Room at Vejle Sygehus phone on +45 7011 0707, which is open day and night for injuries incurred within the last 24 hours. On those conditions, emergency treatment is free. In case of acute illness out-side the doctor's opening hours (08:00-16:00), please call the same number and ask for "Lægevagten".

How to get in touch with a dentist

If you need dental treatment you are free to choose your dentist. Look in the telephone directory under Tandlæger, or ask a friend to recommend one. Please note that you will usually have to make an appointment in advance, and that dental treatment is fairly expensive in Denmark.
